

LONDON EAGER FOR WAR NEWS

Fears in England That Ladysmith Is Doomed to Be Captured.

NEWS IS VERY SCARCE

Newspapers Urging the Government to Use Native Indian Troops.

Only Word From Center of Interest in Africa Is of a Negative Character—Accounts of Buller's Demonstrations Distressingly Bad—Boers Said to Have Disregarded It Entirely—Losses at Colesburg Greater Than at First Reported.

London, Jan. 10.—[Special Cablegram]—The only piece of news from the seat of war today is a supplementary report from Gen. French on the reconnaissance made by a small detachment of his force a few days ago. He says Capt. Ricardo and four troopers of the Life Guards are missing, showing that the reconnoitering party met with opposition.

A Cape Town dispatch says that the Boers have evacuated Magerfontein, where they defeated Gen. Methuen December 12.

Ambassador Choate said today that England had not yet replied to the United States on the question of contraband of war.

Urges Use of Indian Troops
London, Jan. 10.—[Special Cablegram]—The Daily Telegraph today laments the fact that the government is not using the native Indian troops in the Boer war, which, in order to make a clean sweep of the Boers, the paper says, is both justifiable and necessary.

A Successful Reconnaissance
Starkstrom, Jan. 10.—[Special Cablegram]—Gen. Gatacre made a successful reconnaissance to the north today and removed a quantity of food stuff which had been stored by the British in a mill near Molteno.

Pratoria Considered Safe
Cape Town, Jan. 10.—[Special Cablegram]—The Dutch around Starkstrom say that the quantity of prisoners held at Pretoria will prevent the British from bombarding that city.

Steamer Herzog Released
Durban, Jan. 10.—[Special Cablegram]—The German steamer Herzog seized near Delagoa Bay by a British cruiser on the suspicion of carrying contraband goods has been released by the British authorities.

FEAR FOR FATE OF LADYSMITH

All England Eagerly Awaiting News from Gen. White.

London, Jan. 10.—Not one word has been received either at the war office or by the newspapers from Gen. White since his message of Sunday relating briefly Saturday's engagement. What his losses were or what the present condition of his position or how he is left in the matter of ammunition are still unknown. The satisfaction over his brilliant repulse of the triple Boer attack is already replaced by anxiety for the future of his garrison, and that his position is such that Joubert is sure to renew the attack soon is generally believed, hence everybody is eager for advices indicating what shape Gen. White is in to repel further assaults.

Buller's Demonstration.
Several dispatches from Frere camp are printed this morning, detailing Gen. Buller's demonstration, but all lead to the same conclusion, that the movement was of absolutely no value to Gen. White, and was treated with contempt by the Boers.

PAPERS ONLY SPECULATING.

The only report from Frere camp bearing Tuesday's date says: "Buller's division remains inactive."
This tends to increase the speculation and criticism. The following is a summary of the opinion of the press: What held Buller back is that his army could not be concentrated in time to attack and that he still lacks transport for a forward movement to Ladysmith; that he has not sufficient ammunition for his guns for even a few days of fierce fighting; that he was ordered not to attack until Lord Roberts reaches Cape Town; that the enemy's position is unassailable.

French's Losses Heavy.
Reports from all other centers formerly active are also absent, except a list of casualties from French's forces, which shows that his latest misadventure is even more serious than at first given out. Col. Watson and three other officers were killed. Major Graham was severely wounded, and six are reported missing, while the rank and file had twenty-three killed, twenty-two wounded and 107 missing.

Losses for Week 224.
The official lists show the British casualties of all kinds in six days, not including Ladysmith, numbered 224. A dispatch from Frere, dated Sunday afternoon, received this morning says there was no bombardment at Ladysmith Sunday and no shelling of the Boers by Buller.

Conflicting Joubert Stories.
Again Joubert is sick or rather injured. The list of his hurts, if the veracious British correspondents are to be believed, is long. One insists that Joubert was badly injured at Vaalkrust on Nov. 29 by a horse falling on him. Another maintains his injuries are so serious that Joubert can take no further part in the war. Notwithstanding these reports it is quite certain Joubert is the man who defeated Buller and is the commander who led the attacks on Ladysmith.

British Division Unaccounted For.
There is a lost division of troops in South Africa. Nothing has been heard for ten days of Sir Charles Warren and his Fifth division, which joined Buller at Frere a few weeks ago. This complete absence of news concerning him, together with significant indications, leads to the belief that Warren is attempting a flank movement westward, hoping to turn the Boers' right. The impregnability of the Boer position at Colenso makes a frontal attack by Buller hopeless. Hence he must try other tactics.

White in Desperate Straits.
The position of Ladysmith is so desperate that decisive action is necessary to save it. Speculations about Warren are, of course, conjecture, owing to the complete censorship, but experts agree that Buller cannot sit idle and see Ladysmith fall.

Losses Nearly 8,000.
Great Britain's losses since the war began are fast approaching 8,000. A war office compilation of casualties, issued last evening, shows a total of 7,313—1,027 killed, 3,875 wounded and 2,511 missing. These do not include 140 who have succumbed to disease nor the casualties at Ladysmith last Saturday.

DOUBTFUL IF HE WILL SURVIVE

Corbett Held On the Charge Of Murder At Racine Falls Into a Fit.

Racine, Wis., Jan. 10.—Henry F. Corbett, who is being held at the county jail for trial on the charge of assault with intent to kill the Rev. David B. Choney, came near dying this afternoon. He was being shaved by a barber when suddenly he was taken with a fit of coughing, fell from the chair to the cell floor, commenced clutching at his throat and struggled desperately. An effort was made to hold him down, but two men failed to subdue him. Drs. Sent and Simms were hastily summoned and pronounced the prisoner in a dangerous condition. He was given a hypodermic injection which quieted him for awhile but he was taken with another spell and his struggles were frightful.

The doctors state that asthma is the cause of the trouble and that if Corbett is not allowed fresh air and exercise it will only be a few weeks before he will have to be taken to an asylum. Confined in the jail until next March it is doubtful if he will survive.

CRANBERRY RAISERS REPORT GOOD CROP

Annual Meeting of the Wisconsin Society At Grand Rapids Yesterday.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Jan. 10.—The annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Cranberry Growers' association was held in the council rooms in this city yesterday. President Briere spoke to the members present on the prosperity of the past year and the good outlook of the future. The reports from the different sections of the cranberry growing districts disclosed a revival of the industry that was gratifying in the extreme.

The vines were uniformly reported in good condition for the winter. Growers were urged to increase acreage, of the best varieties to meet the competition of the east. Report from the Cranberry Growers' union indicates a satisfactory business in the way of handling the berries, and its usefulness in the future seems assured.

Statistics from the several cranberry localities show the '99 crop to have been about as follows: New England, 570,000 bushels; New Jersey, 210,000, and the west, 120,000 bushels.

POLITICAL CRISIS RAPIDLY RIPENING

ALL OF KENTUCKY AROUSED BY POLITICAL SITUATION.

Goebel and Anti-Goebel Men Clearly Divided and Many Talk of Bloodshed as Result of the Contests For Offices—Gov. Bradley Makes Plain Statement.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19.—Touching the political crisis, rapidly ripening in this city, it is said there is not an impartial man in Kentucky. The line of demarcation between Goebelites and anti-Goebelites is sharp and deep. Men are crying "Usurper" and "Villain." They are talking of "appalling frauds" and "unparalleled infamies." Certain legislators speak of a possible resort to the "shotgun method." The newspapers blaze with invective. The very air is tremulous with the wreck of metaphors and the crash of adjectives. But there has been no bloodshed, and none is expected.

Conflicting Claims
"Regular" democrats say Goebel and the rest of their candidates for state officers will win in the pending contests, and will be seated. Republicans affirm that Taylor and those who made the race with him are in their positions to stay until their terms of office expire. "Honest election" democrats—those who bolted Goebel and supported ex-Gov. John Young Brown—assert that Goebel is attempting to overthrow the expressed will of the people and that victory for him means shame and danger for Kentucky. Conservative men in all three of these divisions of the Blue Grass voters say they do not expect the present embroilment, fierce as is the storm of words it has provoked, to eventuate in violence or disorder.

Bradley Denies Many Rumors.
Ex-Gov. William O. Bradley, who is chief counsel for the republicans in the legal fight said today:

"There will be no violence unless the democrats precipitate it. We do not want any trouble. We do not want the law set aside. We shall bring a great many voters to Frankfort to prove numerous instances of fraud whereby the republicans suffered, but we do not expect these men to come armed. They will come as peaceable citizens bent upon telling the wrongs that have been committed against them and upon assisting in the vindication of the good name of their state."

"All the stories that have appeared, suggesting that we are mobilizing the militia for purposes of intimidation or for any purpose whatever are cheap lies circulated by the Goebelites in their efforts to trump up some excuse for doing arbitrarily what we believe they will never be able to do lawfully. It is their desire to kick up dust and obscure the situation if they can. We are attending strictly to the legal aspects of the case and think we are warranted in saying that Gov. Taylor and all the other republicans recently elected will remain where they are."

MR. BEVERIDGE AS AN ORATOR

His Speech on the Philippines Is Well Received—He Is Ranked with Roscoe Conkling.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special Telegram]—Seldom has a young senator, or an old senator for that matter, received so handsome a compliment as that tendered to Senator Beveridge of Indiana yesterday afternoon by the brilliant audience that gathered to listen to his maiden speech. The galleries were filled with the best people in Washington, there was an unusually large attendance of members of the house of representatives and other officials, and every senator in town was present.

Mr. Beveridge held his audience to the end of his speech. There were no interruptions, and no senator left the chamber, although Mr. Hoar, who with ostentatious indifference occupied himself by writing letters, got restless and changed his seat when the young Indian declared that the resistance of the Philippines to the authority of the United States and the blood they had shed were due to the encouragement and support that had been afforded them by misguided sympathizers in this country. It was evident that Mr. Hoar did not relish that suggestion.

Mr. Beveridge has a pleasant manner, a graceful delivery and a light, sweet-toned tenor voice. He spoke for two hours with great earnestness, and at times was impressive, and it was a marvelous exhibition of memory. His remarks, which would fill seven or eight columns of an ordinary newspaper, were prepared with great care. Several people in the reporters' gallery had the proofs before them and followed him through his entire oration, which was recited from memory almost without the change of a single word.

Mr. Conkling used to be able to do such things, but nobody in the senate since his time has had the memory to retain so long a speech. Mr. Beveridge did not even have a note to guide him, but each paragraph followed in its proper place.

PRESIDENT WANTS SECRETARY ROOT

VICE PRESIDENT'S NOMINATION MAY GO TO NEW YORK.

Secretary Gage's Reply to the Inquiry From Congress Has Been Sent to the Cabinet—McKinley Is Satisfied—More Money For Free Rural Delivery.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Ex-Secretary of the Interior Bliss called on the president this afternoon and held a long conference which was understood to relate to the vice presidential nomination by the national republican convention next summer. Mr. Bliss has been named for the place as a compromise between Woodruff and Root of New York. It is understood that the president informed him that he desires Secretary Root to secure the nomination.

Gage Makes His Reply
Secretary Gage's reply to the senate and house demands for information about government deposits in national banks and the sale of the New York custom house site to the National City bank of New York was submitted to the cabinet and President McKinley today, and received their entire approval. Secretary Gage told a friend at the capitol that the incident will close with the reception of his reply by the senate and house and that there will be no further discussion of the matter.

Money for Rural Free Delivery
Superintendent Machen of the Free Delivery bureau of the Postoffice department, was before the committee on appropriations of the house today, asking that the urgent deficiency bill that is now in course of preparation shall contain an item of $150,000 for rural free delivery extension. It will be necessary to have this sum to continue the present lines of delivery established. It is estimated that if the department continues the services to the extent it now contemplates, it will require an appropriation for the new fiscal year of nearly $1,000,000.

GAGE'S REPLY IS SENT TO CONGRESS

Secretary of the Treasury Gives Ample Reasons For What He Has Done.

Washington, Jan. 10.—[Special Telegram]—Secretary Gage transmitted his reply to congress today on the resolution asking for an explanation of the system pursued by the administration in regard to national bank deposits.

He says that under his administration no discrimination in favor of one bank against another has been made; that the custom of utilizing national banks as depositories for public money is one of long standing, which, if departed from when the receipts of the treasury were in excess of its expenditures, would cause disastrous results; that the reason for directing the international revenue receipts into depository banks is that revenues now largely exceed the disbursements; that the reason for directing all the internal revenue receipts to one depository was that it is more convenient than to give new instructions daily to one hundred and thirteen collectors and that the National City bank was selected because it was one of but two banks which had offered bonds sufficient to cover the amount of the daily deposit.

MAY STRIKE AT INDIA

Russian Armies Advancing—Large Force to Be Concentrated On the Frontiers.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 10.—At the recent conference of ministers it was decided, on the reports of the ministers of war and of marine, to concentrate large forces on the frontiers of British India and Afghanistan. One army corps already has gone to Baku, where it awaits to other orders, and another is soon to follow. Russian warships have been ordered to proceed without demonstrations to Persian waters.

The secret negotiations between Russia and Afghanistan, looking to the elimination of British influence at Kabul, are believed to have been successfully completed, and the Russian occupation of Herat is under consideration. Russian and musliman spies of experience and sagacity are operating in British India, and especially at important spots on the frontier. They report that the natives are active in the propaganda of rebellion, and are absolute in their readiness and desire to begin a mutiny against British rule.

PRICE ON BEDDING ADVANCES

CABINET TALKS OF MEDIATION

United States May Be Called Upon to Intervene in Transvaal War.

ENGLAND SEES DANGER

Fears the African War Will Lead to a Conflict With European Powers.

President McKinley and His Advisors Discuss the Matter—Significant Message Received From Ambassador White at Berlin—Said That Great Britain Despairs of Final Success—Reply on Recent Seizures of American Flour Expected Today.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Intervention in the Transvaal war was the subject of earnest discussion at yesterday's cabinet meeting. Last night cabinet officers were denying that the discussion had any significance further than a desire on the part of President McKinley's counselors to familiarize themselves with a question that has been so widely discussed in the public press. The mere fact however that intervention was even mentioned has given rise to a story that England, hard pressed by Germany to declare her attitude as to what shall constitute contraband, has practically decided to admit that flour and other foodstuffs are not contraband.

This admission is construed to mean, and the construction is charged to mean, that Lord Salisbury will very shortly request President McKinley to use his office to bring about a cessation of hostilities in south Africa and if possible a permanent peace between the Boer and the British governments.

England May Back Down.
A private cablegram from Ambassador White to the secretary of state today conveyed the information that England had indicated her purpose to back down from her pretended right to seize and hold ships carrying food to Lourenzo Marquez, even if it is intended for the Boer army. The same message stated that the British government recoiled only under the greatest pressure, and because it had reason to believe that war feeling was running so high in Germany that Emperor William might not be able to hold it in check.

Important news from Ambassador Choate relating to England's decision about what shall constitute contraband is expected today, and several members of the cabinet confidently believe that it will be followed by the announcement that England has decided to abandon the war and sue for peace.

KRUGER WILL REJECT YOUNG HAY

When young Adalbert Hay, son of the secretary of state, reaches Pretoria, to assume charge of the United States consulate at the capital of the South African Republic, he will be informed by President Kruger that he is persona non grata and that he is at liberty to return to Washington at his own convenience. This news is vouched for by an authority so high that it is received with credence wherever it has been told today.

BADGER NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

Efforts to Name One of the New Cruisers After City of Milwaukee

Washington, Jan. 10.—It is reported at the Navy department that there is a difficulty in finding available officers to take the new battleship Wisconsin, on her trial trip, which is set for a date about three weeks hence. There has been such a demand for naval officers in the new field of operations of the navy in the waters of the distant islands that the number of available officers along the coasts and in this country, proper, is greatly limited.

Representative Otjen is taking an active interest in the movement to have one of the new cruisers named after the city of Milwaukee. He will soon call upon Secretary Long and make the request that the name be selected.

Representative Davidson will tomorrow re-introduce the bill so amending the Eight Hour law as to provide that workmen employed on the river and harbor works shall receive additional compensation for extra work performed.

Mr. Davidson will also introduce a bill to give preference to soldiers and sailors in making appointments from the eligible roll, and applies to all branches of the public service. Age, loss of limb, or physical impairment, which does not in fact disqualify soldiers for the discharge of their duties, shall not be regarded as an obstacle to appointment.

GEORGE M. RANDALL ORDERED TO ALASKA

PRES. M'KINLEY APPOINTS A JANESVILLE BOY.

Creates New Military Department and Honors Col. Randall By Placing Him in Charge—For Many Years Made This City His Home—Brother Now Reside Here.

President William McKinley has created a military department consisting of the territory of Alaska and assigned Col. George M. Randall, 8th United States infantry to command. Col. Randall is on duty with his regiment in Cuba, but will report at Washington en route to Alaska on Jan. 15.

Col. George M. Randall was born in Ohio and entered the service as a private in the 4th Pennsylvania infantry, April 20, 1861, and rose to be a lieutenant ant-colonel of the volunteers, June 1, 1865. He was appointed to the regular service and rose by regular promotion to be colonel. He was brevetted for gallant services in the battle of Antietam and he has had a widely extended and distinguished service on the frontier.

He was sent to Alaska and was in command of Fort St. Michael at the outbreak of the war with Spain. He was appointed a brigadier-general of volunteers and returned from Alaska, but did not reach the country in time to participate in the active service in Cuba or the Philippine islands.

Col. Randall is a former well known Janesville boy and is a brother to Charles Randall who now makes his home at the corner of Ruger avenue and Ringgold street.

It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, W. Va., only reports what has been said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." A Bird's Sea Resort.
From the Youth's Companion: Naturalists consider it a wonderful fact that the Bermuda islands have only seven native species of land birds, while not less than 128 other species pay visits to the islands. Many of these visitors are birds which pass the summer in the United States, and utilize the Bermuda islands as a convenient winter resort, thus imitating some of their human compatriots. Even some American jats follow the example of the birds by wintering in the Bermudas.

Courting In Brazil.
On Sunday evenings the young man is welcomed into the parlor where a row of chairs extends along the four walls. The whole family seats itself and amidst a general conversation the poor fellow is supposed to do the wooing. If he wishes to escort his fiancée to a theater, the family and daughter will walk ahead, while he follows by his lonely self. In short, the couple are never permitted to be alone and the natural consequence is a clandestine wooing.

MISTAKES OF GEN. DOE

General J. B. Doe, at the banquet of the Bryan League at Chicago, argued against the retention of the Philippines, Hawaii and Porto Rico, "because the government would lose the custom duties on goods shipped from these islands making a deficit in revenues that would have to be made up by direct taxation."

We were always under the impression that General Doe was a free trader. A short time ago he could not repeat the statement "the tariff is a tax" fast enough. Now, however, the tariff is no longer a tax, but if we have no tariff, "the deficit in revenues must be made up by direct taxation."

We congratulate General Doe upon his conversion. The light has come to him a little late in life, but "while there is life there is hope."

In admitting the truth of the tariff principle, however, General Doe did not in any way weaken the case of those who favor the retention of the islands. It is a well known fact that the United States has heretofore sold but a very small percentage of the goods bought by the residents of these islands, the trade going to other countries, principally Spain. If the United States retains the islands, however, American firms will furnish most of the goods bought. As the impress of American energy is felt in these new countries, the trade in modern manufactured products will become very heavy. American firms will have an open market, and will therefore get the business.

Porto Rico affords an example. During the years 1893, 94, 95 and 96, the people of Porto Rico bought annually, in the markets of the world, goods to the value of $17,729,669. During the same years, Porto Rico sold on an average, in the markets of the world, goods to the amount of $16,609,141 each year.

The United States bought of Porto Rico, during the years mentioned, goods to the value of $2,680,878, and sold to Porto Rico goods to the amount of $4,215,448.

If, under Spanish rule, we sold 4 1/2 millions of dollars of goods worth of goods to Porto Rico each year, how much can we expect to sell under American rule? As much as more as Spain sold there? Suppose we do. During the years mentioned, Spain sold Porto Rico 32.52 per cent of all the goods she bought—about one third. The United States got about one quarter of the trade. If the United States only gains Spain's share, therefore, we would sell Porto Rico nearly sixty per cent of all her supplies. Can we not afford to lose the custom duties on $2,680,878 worth of imports, in order to sell goods to the value of at least five times that amount?

And will not the case be "the same, only more so" with the Philippines?

This phase of the discussion does not take into consideration at all the revenues the United States would receive from the islands in the way of taxes, customs, duties, etc. It only represents the commercial standpoint, but even under these circumstances, the fallacy of General Doe's argument is clearly shown.

He dugged a pit, he digged it deep,
He digged it for his neighbor;
But for his sin, he did fall in
The pit he digged for 'other.

The Milwaukee correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, speaking of the congressional politics of the state, refers to the First District situation as follows: "There will be no opposition to H. A. Cooper in the First District. Mr. Cooper has a strong hold upon his people and it would almost be a miracle if they should renege him. There is not the slightest danger of anything of the kind. They are proud of the fine record he has made, and since he has been placed at the head of the House insular committee, the people of the First District are confident that they made no mistake when they repeatedly chose him as their representative."

The man who has a deadly fear of the wrath of the tax payer, is always the first one to set public sentiment at naught and tell the people to "go to." Moral—People who practice what they preach are scarcer than hen's teeth, but demagogues are plenty.

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin National Guard supplement, was, like everything The Wisconsin undertakes, a credit to all concerned. The supplement is of great historical value, and should be carefully preserved after it is read.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean is making a hard fight in favor of the publication of the city payrolls. The Inter Ocean is right. The rolls should be published. The people certainly have a right to know how their money is spent.

The author of "Coin's Financial School" is now devoting his energies to discussing "imperialism"—with special reference to the fact that he "can use the money."

When it comes to picking out a U. S. senator, the state of Iowa keeps pace with the onward march by selecting a high gear.

With General Doe, it would appear, the tariff was a tax for political purposes only.

The Jackson club—but let it pass.

And the next day it rained.

EASY LIFE IN N. CARAGUA.

When the Family Is Out of Money Some-Body Goes Out and Gets a Little Gold.

From the New Orleans Times-Democrat:

"When I was in the Olancha district, in Nicaragua, last month," said a visitor who is largely interesting in mining in Central America, "I had an opportunity of seeing how the lazy natives tap nature's till when they need some small change. Near our camp by the river was a hut occupied by a typical Honduran family, consisting of husband and wife, grandfather and grandmother, and a dozen or so assorted children. The only one of the crowd who did anything except rest and smoke was the wife. At intervals of perhaps a week she would sally out with the family tin-pan, erstwhile used for cooking, and proceed to an old placer digging on the river bank. There she would squat, throw a few gounds full of dirt into the pan, fill it up with water and begin the usual circular motion of gold-washing.

She was very skillful and would keep a little sheet of dirty water spraying over the edge like a miniature cataract.

When the water was exhausted a few spoonful of sand would be left in the bottom of the pan, and, spreading it out thin, with a bit of stick, she would go over it, grain by grain, looking for "color." Whenever she saw a speck of gold she moistened the stick upon her tongue and picked up the particle by adhesion. Each bit of the precious metal was stored away in a quill plugged with clay at the ends, and I have known her to take out as much as a quarter of an ounce in the course of a day. Usually her limit was about $2, and when she got that she stopped.

Then the head of the house would arise languidly and start for the nearest store twelve miles away. Sometimes he would trade the whole amount for whiskey, but as a rule he brought back tobacco, salt, meal and calico.

There are hundreds of native families who live in exactly the same manner in Olancha. Sometimes the woman will be lucky enough to strike a rich pocket, that will yield a dollar or more a pan, but they never dream of washing it out at once and getting a stake.

It simply means that they can secure their usual amount with less work."

ENGLISH HUNTER

Falls Into a Tunnel Once Used by Dick

Turpin.

London Standard: While returning from a run with the well-known

Highgate harriers, Thomas Henry

Blake of Kingsdown road, Holloway, was suddenly missed from the pack in South Grove, Highgate. On his companions going back in search of him it was discovered that there had been a subsidence in the roadway, and that

Blake had disappeared into the cavity, which was about six feet wide and fifteen feet deep. Blake, who was seriously injured about the legs, was pulled out of the hole and taken to the police station close by. Dr. G. Fletcher, the police divisional surgeon, attended to his injuries, and then allowed him to be taken home. The police informed the local authorities of the subsidence, and in a short time

Mr. Blair, the surveyor and engineer of the St. Pancras vestry, and other officials, were upon the scene. An examination of the cavity led to the discovery that the upper portion of a subterranean passage had collapsed, and on tracing the course of this passage another was discovered. The main tunnel, which is of considerable circumference, leads on the left to the Flask tavern, in South Grove, close to St. Michael's church, and on the right

it is supposed to lead to the open fields near Kenwood, the seat of the earl of Mansfield. The Flask tavern, a very old house, is popularly supposed to have been one of the haunts of Dick

Turpin, the notorious cattle-lifter, smuggler, housebreaker and highwayman. The house has numerous and extensive cellars, with trapdoors leading from the rooms above, and close by is the stable which is said to have sheltered Black Bess. It is supposed that these subterranean passages were constructed in order to give a ready means of escape from the house in times of danger.

The Chinese Visiting Card.

The Chinese visiting card consists of a large sheet of bright scarlet paper bearing the name of the owner in very large letters, the larger the better. The paper is folded ten times, and the name is written on the right-hand lower corner, prefixed thus: "Your unworthy friend, who bows his head and pays his respects," "Your very stupid brother," or something to that effect. In place of "Yours truly,"

"Your stupid" is written on the Chinese card. The return of these cards to the visitor is considered etiquette.

They are too costly for general distribution. So it is necessary that each card should do duty several times.

UNION LABOR FOR
WOMAN'S SUFFRAGENATIONAL BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL ON RECORD.

Favor a Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States Giving Women the Right to Vote—New Secretary For Gov. Scofield.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 10.—The convention of the National Building Trades

Council went on record yesterday as favoring the enfranchisement of women.

The subject was introduced through a letter from Susan B. Anthony of the National American Woman Suffrage

association. Accompanying the personal appeal to the trades unionists were blankets, which are to be filed and forwarded to congressmen, and the acceptance of these went with the adoption of a resolution favoring the sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, designed to give women

the right to vote.

Through Miss Anthony's efforts the woman's suffrage movement has now been pledged the support of the two big central bodies of organized workmen and the American Federation of Labor. Miss Anthony personally appeared before the latter body at its meeting in Detroit, Mich., and the vote then, as on this occasion, in favor of the movement she represents was unanimous.

The convention adjourned for the day shortly after the opening of the afternoon session owing to the fact that with the exception of the credentials committee, none of the committees was ready to report.

New Secretary For Scofield.

While no direct confirmation is to be had of the reports from Madison that Private Secretary W. J. Anderson will be appointed to the vacancy on the State Tax commission caused by the death of Gen. Griffin, the option continues to prevail that the appointment will be made. Speculation therefore turned to the probable successor of Mr.

Anderson as the governor's secretary, and it was reported yesterday that Dan

B. Starkey, a reporter for The Evening

Wisconsin had been selected.

The meeting of the British Americans in Milwaukee to express sympathy for the English in the South African war and to raise money for the widows' and orphans' fund will be held at Plymouth church next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when President Charles Kendall

Adams of the university will deliver a lecture on South Africa.

Robert P. Fitzgerald, one of the best known vessel owners in the lake marine trade, and a resident of this city, for the past fifty years, died yesterday at his home, No. 3415 Grand avenue, of heart trouble, from which he had been a sufferer for several years.

Rose's Last Desperate Play

Mayor Rose made a statement yesterday afternoon which has further aroused the people of the city against him. He said the people who opposed the passage of the street railway ordinance had been sending matter to the democratic national committee calculated to prejudice that body against this city as a place for holding the national convention.

John Toohy, an active democrat, last night said that the statement was absolutely untrue. He said it was the last desperate play of the franchise supporters who wanted to drag the loyalty of all Milwaukeeans into question in order to cover up their own work.

The executive committee of the National Photographers' association at a meeting today decided to hold the national convention in this city during the week of July 16. At least 2,000 photographers are expected to attend the convention.

Richard O'Hanlon, the principal of the Nineteenth district primary school, was granted a leave of absence by the school board last night. The govern-

MOSES BROS. SUE FOR BURYING BODY

MRS. ALICE WILLIAMS IS THE DEFENDANT.

Plaintiff's Alleged That Mrs. Williams
Never Paid Them For Burying Her Husband—Casket Alone Cost $775
Total Bill Fought Up to $239 Which Includes Hire of Livery.

Frank Moses and Levi Moses, proprietors of the local undertaking firm of Moses Brothers, have commenced action in the circuit court of Rock county, against Mrs. Alice Williams for the collection of a $239 funeral bill.

Ezra Williams, husband of the defendant, died at his home in this city a year ago today as the result of an accident, it is alleged. Moses Bros took charge of the body and buried it in a metallic casket that cost $175. The other expenses, including carriages and fees to the singers footed the bill up to $239. Now the widow, Mrs. Williams, will not settle on the grounds that there was too much extra expense not only in the coffin itself but in the number of carriages that followed the remains to the cemetery. Mrs. Williams alleges that when her husband died his father, a wealthy retired farmer residing in the city of Janesville, came to her home to render her what assistance he could. Mrs. Williams says that she then put all the funeral arrangements in his charge.

The body when taken to Oak Hill cemetery in this city was placed in a vault. The plaintiffs state that if defeated they will bring suit against the interested father-in-law as he personally ordered the coffin and made all necessary funeral arrangements.

The interested parties are all well known in Rock county. Ezra Williams, the deceased, was a railroad fireman at the time of his death. It is alleged that while rounding a curve near Caladonia, Illinois, he was thrown from his engine receiving injuries which caused his death in a week's time.

Mrs. Williams resides on South High street between Pleasant and Center streets. She is a woman held in the highest esteem and many regret her present difficulty.

Alonzo Williams, the father-in-law resides at the corner of Fifth and Fourth avenues and is a retired farmer.

Moses Brothers conduct an undertaking and furniture business at 60 West Milwaukee street.

Attorney W. G. Wheeler represents the plaintiffs, while Attorney E. D. McGowan has been engaged to look after Mrs. Williams interests.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL AWAITS M. G. MOLE

LOCAL YOUTH OUT ON PAROLE
IN TROUBLE.

Chief Hogan Notified the Officers at Waukesha This Morning and They Will Take Mole Back to Serve Out His Time—Larceny Is the Charge.

After telephoning for an officer yesterday afternoon for a half hour a message finally reached Deputy Samuel Brown at the jail and Officer John Brown. The message stated that larceny had been committed at the home of Albert Chapman, 188 Madison street, and that one Michael G. Mole was suspected as being the thief.

Mole was arrested by Officer Brown and Deputy Brown and placed behind the bars before Chief of Police Hogan was even aware that a robbery had been committed. And all for the lack of a proper police system was the chief kept in ignorance of the crime.

Michael G. Mole is a sixteen year old boy who has served three years in the State Industrial School for boys at Waukesha, and who was out on parole. It is alleged that he stole two watches, a ring, scarf pin and a pair of bracelets from the home of Albert Chapman where he was boarding.

He has been boarding at the Chapman home and was but recently released from the Industrial school. Chief Hogan today notified officers at Waukesha who will accompany Mole back to school where he will remain until he is twenty-one years of age. The stolen property was recovered.

COCKTAILS FOR WOMEN

New York's 400 Are Said to Be Drinking More Than Is Good For Them.

New York, Jan. 9.—The recent dispute in the Eclectic Club over the question of cocktails for women has stirred up no end of trouble in Gotham and now come more of the leaders of the swell set of all the well sets and say that there is no doubt that the society women do drink more of the insidious decoction than is good and right and proper for them.

As a matter of fact, the question has become so serious that Oscar, the head waiter of the Waldorf, has been asked to tell what he knows about it. When a topic gets over the heads of the swell set, hereabouts there is only one thing to do—appeal to Oscar. Oscar is a genius. He is also a clever man and one that is fully alive to the enormous responsibilities that rest on his devoted head. And so when the good women began to get into a snarl over the cocktails somebody thought at once of Oscar.

"Yes," said the sage, "the women do drink too many cocktails, and they are not oyster or soda cocktails, either. They are the real thing. But," added Oscar, "a lady is always a lady, cocktail or no cocktail." This was an afterthought, and it was the saving clause in the strong statement of the man who tells even the Astors and the Vanderbilts what they shall and what they shall not eat or drink.

Mrs. Theodore Sutro, however, is somewhat shocked at the prevalence of the cocktail habit, and does not hesitate to say so in quite strong words. She is a Sorosis woman, and in discussing the habit and its alarming increase, says: "I fully realize that women are every day seizing upon new liberties. They have laid hold of the cocktail, but they must let go. The American cocktail is strictly unfeminine, and was never meant for woman's palate. It is essentially a man's drink."

And it is a conceded fact that the appetite for mixed drinks is fast developing among the female members of New York's "smarter set."

FLORIDA TOWN UNDER ARMS

Residents of Milton Determined to Suppress Lawlessness of Strikers

Milton, Fla., Jan. 10.—This place is under arms today and there is much excitement. Saturday night a number of men went through the streets firing into the houses, but no persons were hurt by the bullets. The town was like a grave yard Sunday, no church services being held either day or night, in order to avoid the assembling of the people in masses.

Nearly every citizen goes armed, and there is a determination to break up the riots of the striking mill hands who have been out two weeks. The people are determined to restore order, even if lynching has to be the force used.

WOULD OUST THE ALDERMEN

St. Louis Business Men Against Officials Who Refused to Light the City.

St. Louis, Jan. 10.—The real estate exchange has called a mass meeting of citizens to be held this afternoon for the purpose of discussing measures for the relief of the city from darkness and to devise means for forcing the municipal assembly to do its duty in this direction.

It is probable that if the lighting bills prepared by the board of public improvements are not passed by the council and house this week the property owners will take the matter into the courts by proceedings to oust the councilmen and delegates from office for deliberate neglect of duty.

A. BOEGE, superintendent of the Isabel Manufacturing Company, has just returned from a three days' business trip to Chicago in the interest of his concerns. Mr. Boege said that the business of the new factory was beyond all expectation; that he sold a bill of goods to every merchant on State street with whom he had a conversation.

Policemen and Spectacles

New York Evening Post: An unusual application has been made to the police board by Patrolman George W. Rogers of the Gates avenue station, Brooklyn, who wants to wear eyeglasses. The lids of the policeman's eyes are inflamed, and the strong wind affects his eyes greatly. This is a new question for the board to decide. Some sergeants, captains and other officers use glasses on desk duty, but no patrolman has ever worn them on patrol duty. It is hardly thought that if the policeman got into a fight he might be dangerously hurt by his glasses being broken. Rogers has been a policeman twelve years. The board has referred his case to the police surgeons, who will examine Rogers and report his condition to the board.

Scented Water for the Table.

If society has not perfected the art of dining it is surely not far from it. The latest fad for the dinner table is scented water for the finger bowls. Great care should be taken in scenting the water. To be correct, the odor must be exceedingly faint. Verbena leaf is refreshing, and occasionally one leaf is left floating on the water of each finger bowl. When natural flowers and leaves are scarce and one has not a private hothouse or conservatory to draw from perfume tablets are used for this purpose. If a scented flower is used in decorating the table, perfect taste requires that the water in the finger bowls be of the same perfume as the flower.

Porto Rico's Dense Population.

Our new island of Porto Rico, according to Mr. Mark W. Harrington, is "the most densely populated rural community proper in America." It has about 220 inhabitants to the square mile. When the Spaniards first occupied it, it was as densely populated as it is now. Before Columbus discovered America two successive races had occupied the island; one seems to have been of northern origin and the other was of Carib stock. Every tillable part of the land has been cultivated again and again.

Alaska Lake That Does Not Freeze.

Lake Salawik, near Dawson City, Alaska, which is sixty miles broad, is perhaps the only one in the extreme north which does not freeze in winter. It is not known to have any communication with the sea and yet it rises and falls with the ocean tides.

May Turn Night Into Day.

A New Orleans architect has advanced the novel idea that within the next fifty years the people of every large southern city will do most of their sleeping by day. The reason of this is the increasing cheapness of artificial light and the peculiar climatic conditions of the south, which make the night the coolest and most comfortable time to work. The author of this idea claims that darkness is one of the forces of nature against which civilization wages war; that it facilitates crime and impedes travel and "puts arbitrary limits on human exertion."

Loss by War.

A German army officer estimates that in the century just closing no less than 30,000,000 men have been killed in war in civilized countries.

Hydrogen Solidified.

Prof. Dewar has at length succeeded in solidifying hydrogen. In its compact form, solid hydrogen is a transparent ice, but owing to rapid ebullition it usually appears as a foamy white mass. Its mean temperature is 16 degrees centigrade above absolute zero. Prof. Dewar says, with reference to his latest achievement: "The last doubt as to the possibility of solid hydrogen having a metallic character has been removed, and for the future hydrogen must be classed among the non-metallic elements."

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

BATTLES SOUTH OF IMUS.

American Troops Still Driving the Rebels Inland.

OUR LOSSES ARE TRIFLING.

Gen. Schwan's Forces Carry On a Vigorous Campaign About Ilinan, Silang, Muntinglupa and Other Towns in That Region.

Manila, Jan. 10.—After a long march from San Pedro Macate, Gen. Schwan's brigade reached Muntinglupa on Friday evening. The enemy left a half hour prior to the arrival of the Macabebe scouts. They were then retreating to the south. A cavalry scouting party was sent southward, and reported that the insurgents were a short distance off. The insurgents opened fire and the cavalry returned to camp, having had orders not to engage the enemy.

Gen. Schwan early on the morning of Jan. 6 divided his command, sending two battalions of the Thirtieth and the Forty-sixth regiment along the coast toward Bimang. The general himself proceeded along with the Macabebe scouts and Steele's battalion of the Thirtieth regiment. Col. Hayes' cavalry and three mountain guns. He took the trail inland toward Ilinan.

When a short distance from the town the Macabebe scouts and Hayes' fifty cavalry scouts encountered the enemy. The insurgents were soon routed. Two Americans were injured. The enemy retreated across the mountain region of Silang.

San Pedro Tunasan was destroyed, and three gun carriages found in the canfield were evidence that the guns had been recently removed. After our troops had reached the broad rice-field near Binan the enemy were discovered watching the advancing troops. They then occupied a position with the protection of a low stone wall along the creek, a quarter of a mile long.

The Macabebe scouts deployed, followed by Steele's battalion of the Thirtieth regiment. A formation was effected, and the Americans were soon within range. When they were about 100 yards distant the enemy opened fire, killing Corporal Johnson, Company E, and wounding two men of Company F of the Thirtieth regiment. The men were never before under fire, but advanced cheering. The insurgents retreated to the town. When our troops reached the outskirts they observed the enemy down the road in the plaza. Hayes' fifty cavalry scouts charged, and were received with only a few shots. The enemy disappeared, but the presence of many amigos indicated they were resorting to the old tactics.

Several natives who had discarded their uniforms were found and arrested. The insurgents' loss is unknown. Four bodies were found, and also one wounded man. Several rifles were captured.

A scouting party reports that the enemy is two miles outside of Silang. It is believed that the American advance will be hotly contested.

Indictments Are Noted.
Taylorville, Ill., Jan. 10.—The indictments against the Panama mine operators for riot were nolle prosequed in the Circuit court Tuesday by the state's attorney. The operators were charged with inciting the riot at Panama last April, when eight people were killed, and the indictments included the Penneys, Overholt, Hartz, Prover and Putterbach, owners of the three mines of Panama.

Eighteen Men in Grave Peril.
Grand Haven, Mich., Jan. 10.—The fish tugs Bos, Angur and Anna have been fast in the ice off here since 1 p. m. Tuesday, and are drifting north. Eighteen men are on the three tugs, and fear for their safety is felt.

Cubans Demand Independence.
Santiago de Cuba, Jan. 10.—Gens. Miro, Rabi and Castro, who recently were in conference with Gen. Wood in Havana, spoke last night at the Cuban club, Santiago. In substance they declared that unless the Americans soon give Cuba actual independence all true Cuban patriots will take to the mountains and fight the Americans on the same ground on which they met the Spaniards.

Jury Returns Verdict of Suicide.
Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 10.—The last chapter in the strange occurrences surrounding the disappearance of Sister Augusta, a minor sister in the order of the Sisters of St. Mary, whose body was found in the lake Monday, was written last evening, when the coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

FOR NEW SCHOOLS IN IOWA.

Gov. Shaw Pleads for Four Normal—Other Recommendations.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 10.—The most important recommendation made by Gov. Shaw in his message to the XXVIIIth general assembly, which was read before that body Tuesday, relates to education. He asks the legislature to establish four additional normal schools for the training of teachers, and the levying of three-tenths of a mill special tax for purposes of higher education, one-tenth for the state university, one-tenth for the state agricultural college and one-tenth for the maintenance of the normal schools recommended.

Gov. Shaw informs the assembly that there is $1,200,000 in sight which the assembly may appropriate safely. He says the state finances are in better condition by $1,000,580 than they were two years ago.

To solve the problem of convict labor the governor urges the legislature to enact an indeterminate-sentence law, with power of parole in the chief executive. He believes pardon before actual incarceration will reform many men.

Iowa monuments to Iowa soldiers at Shiloh and Vicksburg are recommended.

Free school libraries are endorsed. More advanced legislation to safeguard the people against building and loan associations is recommended.

The governor indorses the plan suggested by the state superintendent of public instruction for the establishment of graded rural schools.

A law which will stop prize fights is recommended. The present law is ineffective.

An increase in the governor's salary is urged.

AFFAIR IN SANTO DOMINGO

Admiral Gullis on President Jimenes and Early Settlement Expected.

Santo Domingo, Jan. 10.—Admiral Richard, with his staff, formally called upon President Jimenes yesterday. No business was transacted. The French consul was present. It is rumored on good authority that the French consul has not been sustained by his government and that he has cabled his resignation. It is expected that official action will be taken today. Americans of this place have asked the United States not to allow France to dictate terms to the Dominican government.

Washington, Jan. 10.—While the officials here deprecate the state of affairs in Santo Domingo, they have not found it within their power to interfere at this stage, at least, to prevent the collection by the French naval officers of what is here understood to be a just debt. It is said at the state department that no appeal has yet been made looking to our intervention, and if there should be there is no doubt we should be obliged to decline until the debt is settled.

Pulitzer's Home Is Burned.

New York, Jan. 10.—The residence of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World, at 10 East Fifty-fifth street, was destroyed by fire Tuesday, and two women servants were suffocated or burned to death. The total loss is estimated at about $300,000; the insurance is $250,000. The victims of the fire were Mrs. Jellett, the housekeeper, and Miss Elizabeth Montgomery, a governess.

Street Railway Burns Bureau.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The barns of the South Chicago City Railway company at Holman and Sheffield avenues, Hammond, Ind., were destroyed by fire on Tuesday, causing a loss of about $130,000. The barn, a brick structure 75 by 225 feet, was burned, and thirty-two cars, including a number of motor cars, sweepers and sprinklers, and a large quantity of apparatus were reduced to ruins.

FEAR DANGER FROM OTHER BIG POWERS

London Papers Are Anxious to Have the Government Increase Army and Navy.

London, Jan. 10.—The Morning Post demands that the forces afield and afloat and in preparation shall be increased by 65,000 men. To this end it urges that all the trained men the country possesses, militia and volunteers, shall be called out, asserting incidentally that, although the attitude of other powers is correct in the diplomatic sense of the word, an invasion, if attempted, would be sudden, and that now is the time to apprehend contingencies.

Diplomatic Notes as to Seizures.

The Daily Graphic makes the following statement regarding the seizure of German vessels by British warships: "Germany has addressed two notes to the British foreign office challenging Great Britain's right to detain any vessel traveling between two neutral ports. These notes have been duly answered. The queen's government finds itself wholly unable to acquiesce in Germany's contention. Germany cited a case in support of her contention, but on examination this so-called precedent proved to be quite inapplicable to the seizures under discussion. The correspondence between the two governments rests there, pending a decision by the prize court."

Anxious for Intervention.

Brussels, Jan. 10.—The detention at Durban of the Belgian ambulance corps on board the German East African liner Herzog continues to occasion bitter comment, and it is hoped that the Belgian government will be provoked by popular indignation to make forcible protest against the arrest. As a matter of fact the Belgian corps is only affiliated with the international volunteer Red Cross, and has no standing beyond that connection.

Not Co-operating with Germany.

Washington, Jan. 10.—It is stated here on authority that the United States government is not co-operating with Germany or any other government in representations to the British government respecting the seizure of goods destined for Portuguese East Africa. Moreover, our government does not contemplate any such co-operation.

Not Yet Ready for Mediation.

London, Jan. 10.—King Leopold, according to the Brussels correspondent of the Daily Mail, recently inquired of Queen Victoria whether an opportune moment for mediation had arrived, but received a reply in the negative.

Startling Rumor from Amsterdam.

London, Jan. 10.—A special dispatch from Amsterdam today says that an uncredited rumor is current there that a British cruiser has fired upon the Dutch cruiser Friesland, near Delagoa bay, and that a Dutch officer was killed.

Call for Canadian Horsemen.

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10.—A cablegram was received by Col. Grasset, chief of police, that 200 Canadian horsemen are wanted in South Africa at once as recruits.

May Occupy Madeira Islands.

Madrid, Jan. 10.—It is rumored in Madrid that Great Britain will shortly occupy the Portuguese Madeira islands.

M'GOVERN IS THE WINNER.

Dixon Loses Featherweight Championship in Eight Rounds.

New York, Jan. 10.—Terrance McGovern of Brooklyn, in eight rounds of the swiftest punching, the fastest in-and-out give-and-take fighting ever seen in a Horton-law ring, lifted the featherweight championship of the world at the Broadway Athletic club Tuesday night from George Dixon. After holding the championship for a period even longer than the reign of John L. Sullivan among the giants, Dixon was saved the ignominy of being knocked out. Tom O'Rourke, his manager, threw up the sponge as Dixon lay conquered but still struggling in McGovern's corner.

It was the Dixon of old—fast, honest and game as a pebble—but youth, not to be denied, added another to its long list of victories over age, mature judgment and ring experience. At the conclusion of the battle McGovern was comparatively fresh, although he had gone through the hardest battle of his life. He is a fighting wonder, and Dixon, though defeated, can look back upon his long list of victories and feel no disgrace.

Old Officers Re-elected.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—The state board of health met here in annual meeting. The old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Dr. C. B. Johnson, Champaign; treasurer, Dr. R. F. Bennett, Litchfield; secretary, Dr. J. A. Egan; attorney, John A. Barnes, Chicago.

Dawey Gets Cup of Dimes.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The loving cup of silver made from the melted dimes contributed by over 70,000 Americans, the majority of whom were children, was presented to Admiral Dawey Tuesday. The ceremony took place in the parlors of the Dawey residence on Rhode Island avenue.

Copper Colored Splotches.

There is only one cure for Contagious Blood Poison—the disease which has completely baffled the doctors. They are totally unable to cure it, and direct their efforts toward bottling the poison up in the blood and concealing it from view. S. S. S. cures the disease positively and permanently by forcing out every trace of the taint.

I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do no good, I had spent a hundred dollars which were really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved and was delighted with the result. The large red splotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger, and my appetite greatly improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass.

Don't destroy all possible chance of a cure by taking the doctor's treatment of mercury and potash. These minerals cause the hair to fall out, and will wreck the entire system.

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 28.
I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles." Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

PASSING OF SALT LAKE.

Our American Dead Sea Will Soon Be Merely a Salt Bed.

BY C. T. BAXTER.

Great Salt lake, the Dead sea of the new world, is rapidly disappearing. The geologists say that it may last another century, but not longer than that. Where the silver sheet of mysterious water now stretches will be left only a valley of glistening salt with ruins of long abandoned wharves and hotels around its edges.

James E. Talmage, professor of geology, University of Utah, says:

"Irrigation by diverting the volume of its four tributary rivers, has sealed the fate of Great Salt lake. Each year its waters are growing more acid. Every year it grows perceptibly smaller. Thirty years ago the lake was 80 miles long. Today it is barely 70 miles in length. There are geological evidences on the rocks that the lake has within the last two decades had a width of 40 miles. Now that width is only 25 miles. At some points the shore line has reached five miles in less than five years. In the natural course of geological events it may be expected that in another hundred years there will be but a bed of salt where Great Salt lake has been."

Great Salt lake is in the northern part of Utah. Salt Lake City is 17 miles south of it. The lake stretches between two spurs of the Rocky mountains. There is 25 per cent of salt in its waters and it is constantly growing more salt.

Several explorers claimed the honor of its discovery. The French baron, La Fontaine, the first of these, never saw Great Salt lake, but he wrote that the Comanche Indians told him of the "bitter water" where the sun set. Eschschute, the Spanish friar, gave the first definite knowledge of the lake in 1776. "The lake occupies many leagues and its waters are injurious and extremely salt. He who wets his body with the water immediately feels itching on the wet part," wrote the good friar in his diary.

SHORE OF GREAT SALT LAKE.
[Showing stratification marks.]

James Bridger and Steen Ogden, two trappers, later claimed the honor of the discovery. In 1832 Captain Bonneville came upon the lake. He immediately christened it Lake Bonneville and at once gave his name to the great prehistoric sea, its parent. It was Brigham Young who, after a plunge into it, called it Great Salt lake, a name it will bear to its approaching and certain end.

It is an Indian tradition—and there are geological theories that agree with it—that Great Salt lake is the mere fragment of a great primeval sea, extending from the Rocky mountains to the Sierra Nevada range. Skeletons of marine animals of prehistoric times, found among the alkali plains of what was once the Great American desert, bear this out. Earthquakes swallowed a portion of this sea, and evaporation removed all but the remaining fragment, say the geologists.

The Mormon pioneers found a barren, frowning desert at the foot of the Wasatch mountains. They literally made it bloom as the rose, but in order to do so they dug a network of irrigation canals and ditches that deflected the four rivers from their course to Great Salt lake into the fields of Utah. The fields blossomed and flourished and Great Salt lake shrank and dwindled and lost its substance to the upper atmosphere.

The record of the decline of Great Salt lake is written upon its mountains. Time was—and geologists point to the handwriting on the rocks to prove this—that the lake overtopped these mountains. Now it lies sluggish at their feet. The different shore lines of the past stand out as distinctly and as evenly as if a surveyor's line had been run along the face of the ridges.

Geologists believe that the inland sea was once a fresh water lake. The theory is that Utah lake and Bear lake, fresh water bodies both, were once part of it and that they were separated from it by some convulsion of nature. The geological theory is that it did not take the lake long to become intensely saline after it was locked in. For its expense it was shallow even then, not more than 100 feet deep at its deepest place, probably not that. The maximum depth today is 60 feet, and the average is less than half that.

At some points one can wade 1½ miles from the shore without getting beyond knee depth. There are salt deposits 20 miles from the shore, showing that the shore line at not very recent years extended to that point. The height of the lake, 4,000 feet above sea level, aids the work of evaporation and the steady pathetic, hopeless shrinkage of the Great Salt lake.

SUFFRAGISTS TO MEET.

The Annual Convention to Open in Washington on Feb. 8.

The thirty-second annual convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage association will be held in Washington in the Church of Our Father Feb. 8-14, inclusive.

The nineteenth century was called by the poet prophet Victor Hugo "the century of woman." Since the dawn of history exceptional women have demonstrated by their high abilities as inventors, skilled workers, poets, artists, teachers and rulers that in the domain of intellect woman was not under the ban of nature, but under those of statute and custom. But for the mass of women the nineteenth century has been the only epoch in history which has given them rights as women or opportunities as human beings.

To state the difference in the position of women in all fields of activity between what it was at the beginning of the century and is now at its close would be to present a series of brilliant transformations surpassing the magic creations of Aladdin's lamp.

The way up the heights of woman's advancement has been long and steep, but it has not been dreary. The consciousness of giving the world a forward movement along the path of liberty is the highest reward vouchsafed to human effort. The greatest men of the century have walked with us. Poets have sung for us, prophets have inspired us with visions of success, statesmen have made courts and forums ring with eloquence in our behalf. Stones have blossomed into roses, scorn has become applause, timidity, opposition and indifference have changed into a grand chorus of appeal for woman's equality before the law.

Let us then close the nineteenth century with a convention which shall be a jubilee for our successes and preparation for the twentieth century, which is to be not man's nor woman's, but humanity's.

Fashion's Echoes.

Gold stickpins, which are just the thing that every woman will want, have appeared in sizes ranging from that of the small brass pin of everyday use up to round headed affairs in what was once shawl pin size.

An eruption of little bows reveals itself on some of the new gowns. At present the bows are unobtrusive, lacking together the fronts of polonaises and tunics and running up the side panels of skirts, but there they are all the same.

Many of the winter dresses will have single breasted waists, and for these the page boy's close set bullet buttons are likely to be wanted. The crystal buttons have been the feature of this season. They are now being beautified by a pearl, an emerald, a ruby or their semblance inserted in the center.

As far as it is possible to judge at present, gowns in crepe de chine will be worn all through the early autumn, and the material is certainly quite an ideal one for tea gowns and for indoor toilets to be worn for country house visiting.

The mark of style is on the woman whose traveling bag is made of the same material as her gown.

Silk finished alpaca or brilliantine appears in handsome colorings among the autumn goods.

A BACHELOR'S TOILET TABLE AND A QUAIN LIBRARY CABINET.

A Combination of the Popular Chiffonier and the Time Honored Shaving Stand—A Bookcase Which Includes a Convenient Writing Desk.

Where the small dimensions of a bachelor's dressing room do not admit the introduction therein of the ordinary commodious and extensive dressing table, as often occurs, it is probable that a bachelor's table—a comfortable English device—would justify its creation by winning immediate favor. The idea arises from a combination of our American chiffonier, which is in reality a tall, narrow nest of drawers, and the old fashioned and none too beautiful shaving stand of time honored popularity.

A design for a most convenient contrivance, compact, handy and simple in appearance, has three large drawers occupying the lower part and two smaller ones supplied above. These latter drawers, which would be found useful for shavers' impedimenta, are raised well above the table part, which, as in most dressing room toilet tables, is none too ample. The glass standards are brought well forward, so as to allow the mirror to swing to a good angle without the upper part hitting against the wall or the window, as the case may be.

In the under part of this piece of furniture a cupboard might be substituted for the two lower drawers, while the width of the table top could be extended by the addition of a shelf at either end, which, being hinged, could be raised or lowered at will. The inclosed cupboard would be found a convenient receptacle for boots and slippers, and if further accommodation were needed this could be provided by screening the lower part of the case with a pretty curtain.

This useful little article would look well in inexpensive wood stained green or golden brown, with copper handles.

It is interesting to notice that, as a general rule, the furniture that is common to men is not so subject to change as that which is usually identified with the gentler sex. As in dress, so in furniture—that which is destined to serve the sterner half of humanity is judged primarily from a utilitarian standpoint, fashion and beauty being secondary considerations. Especially is this noticed in the furniture that is required for the purposes of study or occasional work or business at home.

It is the sheer usefulness of the thing that has given the office desk an entrance into so many tastefully furnished dining rooms and libraries. For private or business writing at home it is necessary to have a desk that can be shut up completely in a moment. The roller top desk does this, and so does the time honored cylinder full writing table, and therefore a combination of bookcase and writing desk is designed to the same end.

Here we have a useful piece of furniture intended to accommodate a fairly number of books and to contain ample drawer convenience, as well as a fall down and shut up flap for writing purposes. Such a cabinet as this would form a conspicuous and pleasing piece of furniture in a library or modern dining room and would not fail to secure the approval of the ordinary busy man.

The Grasshopper the Mascot Jewel.
"The grasshopper is one of those little fashionable bijoux which at the moment suit the fancy of the young ladies who always preserve a little childishness. This grasshopper in different sizes perfectly imitated in enamel of a shining green, with feet of gold and large eyes of ruby, is worn as brooch, charm, belt buckle, bracelet. It is seen on the umbrella handle, on parasols, paper cutters, etc. It is even printed on the letter paper for informal notes. This is the mascot of this season, a fact which promises it an assured asylum on the prettiest corsages," writes a Paris correspondent in The Jewelers' Circular.

ANOTHER AIRSHIP.

Inventor Declares It Will Remain in Air a Week at a Time.

The Swiss newspapers announce the forthcoming "launch" of a new airship over—not on—the Lake of Constance, says the London News. Its inventor is Count von Zeppelin, a retired German officer, who has for many years studied the question of steering balloons. He now claims to have solved the problem of the light motor. An aeroplane built by him is reported to have developed sufficient power to tow a boat on the River Inn at a speed of nine miles an hour. To minimize the risks of an unforeseen fall the count has selected the Lake of Constance as the scene of his decisive experiment. Its area of over 300 square miles will, he believes, be sufficient to enable him to execute all necessary evolutions. The vessel is "moored" at Friedrichshafen and is supported by sixty pontoons. There is a gas works in the vicinity. The inventor keeps the mechanism of his airship secret and has taken stringent precautions to warn off the curious. All that is known is that the vessel's proportions are immense—over 550 feet long and nearly fifty feet in diameter. It is cylindrical, with conical extremities, and is divided internally by strong partitions. The "hull" is of silk, stretched over a skeleton of aluminum. The power is supplied by two motors, placed beneath the cylinder, one at each end. The propelling principle is the ordinary screw, but there are three special devices for steering. Count von Zeppelin declares that his machine will be able to rise to a height of over 3,000 feet, lift a weight of nearly two tons, travel at a speed of ten yards a second, and remain in the air for a week at a time.
